EXTENDS TRYOUT
DATE TO OCT. 25*Stroller Eligibles Must Meet
With Conrey, Chairman
Of Committee*AMATEUR NIGHT SET
NOVEMBER THIRTH
Petition Sent to Dean of Men
Asking for Annual Dance Date

Strollers, University dramatic circle, met at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday to discuss further plans for membership tryouts, amateur night, and the annual dance sponsored by the organization. A petition in which November 4 was specified as the time when the dance is desired to be held, was prepared for submission to the dean of men.

The time for tryouts of Stroller eligibles was extended to Wednesday, October 25, since there are a great number to be heard, and a limited time will be devoted to each hearing. After memorizing a part to one of the plays which have been on the reserve shelf of the library for the past week, an appointment must be made with T. C. Conrey, chairman of the tryout committee, and may be reached at Ashland 4624.

At the meeting Wednesday, Wilfred Graves was elected vice-president of the group. A dance committee of Bill Daniels, Mary Tempin Faulkner, Phil Ardery, and T. C. Conrey was appointed by the new president.

The time for amateur night was definitely set for Friday, November 3. This is an annual event, sponsored by Strollers. The best three or four couples in the tryouts will present their plays at that time. After they have been judged, the couple giving the best performance will receive a cup. The winning couple and others participating in amateur night will gain a certain number of points toward Strollers.

Another meeting of Strollers will be held within the next week or two for additional discussion of plans for the dance.

Former University Student Wounded*Thomas Beard Is Shot By Bandit Hitch-Hiker In Home Town

Thomas Beard, 30 years old, Hardinsburg, a former student at the University, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded by a bandit whom Beard had allowed to get into his automobile on the pretense of "a ride down town" at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in Hardinsburg.

After being wounded, Beard managed to stop his automobile and stagger to the sidewalk. The bandit drove the car towards the business section of Owensboro, but no trace of the stolen car has been found.

Beard was taken to the Hardinsburg hospital where an emergency operation was performed to save his life. Attending physicians said his condition was critical.

Beard last attended the University in 1932. He was a student in the College of Engineering and a member of Alpha Sigma Phi.

Kampus Kernels

All students interested in inter-collegiate debate work are asked to meet in room 231, McVey hall, at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday. Plans for the forthcoming debating season will be discussed.

A meeting of the Omega Beta Pi, honorary chemical fraternity, has been called for 7 p. m. Monday, October 23, in the Science building. All members are requested to be present.

Alpha Phi Omega will hold an important meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. All members please be present.

A candy sale will be held Thursday, October 27, in the Agriculture building, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. The candy is made and sold by the freshman girls of the Ag college who wish to earn credits for the Home Economics club.

ALMA MAGNA MATER GROUP WILL MEET

Alma Magna Mater club will hold its first meeting of the year at 5 p. m. Wednesday, October 25, at Maxwell Place. There are now 270 children of former students on the campus, and they are all urged to attend this meeting.

The members of the last year's club will meet at 4 p. m. before the new members arrive.

After a short business meeting, the club will adjourn to have tea with Mrs. Frank L. McVey.

John B. Dicker Succumbs
After Lingerin Illness

John Born Dicker, 52 years old, superintendent of the engineering shops, died at 6:15 a. m. yesterday at the St. Joseph's hospital. He had been under treatment for 12 weeks and was aware of his critical condition.

Mr. Dicker was a native of Torquay, Devonshire, England, and came to Lexington 27 years ago to join his uncle, the late Joseph Dicker, then head of the engineering shops, and the man for whom Dicker hall was named. Each man served as head of the shop work for 26 years; ten years of this time they served together. It is estimated that 5,000 men came in contact with these two men during the time that they were at the University. The two men gave 42 years of faithful service to the Engineering college.

"Jack" Dicker, as he was known to the students, was valued for the great interest he took, not only in the students of the Engineering college, but also in the students of every college on the campus, according to Dean Anderson. He was always seeking ways to help the student, and many brought to him not only their school problems, but also their financial and personal troubles. It has been said that "Jack" never betrayed a confidence. Nine years apprenticeship in practical mechanics in England had just been finished when Mr. Dicker came to the University. He was a recognized authority in the pattern, woodworking, blacksmithing, foundry.

OFFERS COURSE*Political Science Class Is Held In Louisville For 200 Women Each
Friday*OTHER COURSES OPENED

Dr. Amry Vandebosch, political science department, is offering a non-credit course in political science each Friday at the Seelbach hotel, Louisville to 200 members of the Kentucky league of women voters. The course was widely advertised, and is well-patronized by the women voters of Louisville. It started on October 13, and it is expected that the enrollment in this course will reach approximately 250.

Enrollment in other courses is also high, and literature courses are proving the most popular. Professor Farquhar is offering these courses each Thursday afternoon and evening.

Some 300 enrollments in University of Kentucky credit courses and 200 enrollments in non-credit courses have been reported so far at the University of Kentucky Extension center in Louisville. Prof. E. F. Farquhar is offering there a course in survey of English literature and also a course in modern drama. Mr. W. A. Helms of the hygiene department is offering a credit course in hygiene, Prof. A. N. May, a course in vocational guidance, and Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, two courses in school administration.

Plans are under way, according to Dr. Wellington Patrick, director of University extension, for closer cooperation with the University of Louisville in adult education work in that city. The University of Kentucky has been offering instruction there for ten years. Five years ago, the University of Louisville began offering night courses for adults and plans will be worked out, so as to avoid duplication. Plans for the second semester courses by the University of Kentucky at Louisville have not been completed.

MARTIN REPORT
TO BE DISCUSSED*Article On Taxes, Written
By Commerce Professor,
To Be Read At National Tax Association

James W. Martin, director of bureau of business research of the University, has just completed a report "Motor Vehicle and Related Taxes," which will be read and discussed at the National Tax association meeting to be held from October 17-20 at Phoenix, Arizona.

The purpose of this report is to set forth a plan for investigating the gasoline and motor registrations for the next year. It is necessary, according to the report, for this association to study, first, what to do with the revenue derived from the gasoline tax, and secondly, what if anything, should be done about the overlapping of the gasoline taxes, and of registration taxes. The National Tax association appointed a committee, of which Mr. Martin is chairman, to investigate these matters. It also must be determined how much of the gasoline tax should be used for building new bridges and the number of toll bridges needed. The question of what kind of business tax should be imposed on buses, and the problem of the administration of the taxes must be decided at this meeting.

Might as Well

Pictures Taken*Writer Reminds All Seniors
That Dues Must Be Paid Regardless

By SAG KASH

Each and every senior has to pay his or her senior dues. That just happens to be a well-known fact. It's like death and taxes you can't dodge it. Can't help it if your great, great, grand-daddy was a DKE at Vassar, or your cousin's half sister on Aunt Emma's side was present at the court of St. James, you still have to face the facts. It is just one of those things you cannot get around. Sorry, but there just isn't enough pull in existence to help you. Might as well try to miss one of Mr. Knight's English Literature quizzes and then try to persuade him to give you a makeup. Oh! By the way, seniors, you know what you get out of your senior fees besides the "ole sheepskin," don't you. A Kentuckian? Sure.

Having tried to eliminate all tommy-rot and whatnot, we have come to this conclusion. Just a matter of deduction, nothing more. My dear Watson. The sum of the fees left "Remember the Maine," but it is, have your pictures taken for the Kentuckian, youse mugs. You won't regret it, and that is one fact that you may rest assured of. Why, in later years when lil' Dorothy Jeanne or Jimmy Dick drags forth the annual with sticky fingers, covered with jam or some such concoction, and climbs upon your knee and says in his or her childish treble, "Mamma, show me your picture in dis and tell me about the time dat you was May Queen." Or, "Daddy here you is in your football suit. I wanna hear about the time you made that 70-yard run for a touchdown," won't your chest swell with pride and your eyes get sorta misty as you turn the pages, and you look back on the scenes of your school days, and memory plays heck with that knot that wiggles up and down in your throat. But what if you fail to get that picture taken, seniors? Maybe you think it is only a small item right now, but wait a few years and you can tell the difference.

Seniors Will Vote
In Annual Election*Polls In White Hall Will Be Open From 9 a. m. Until 4:30 p. m.

Annual election of senior class officers will be held today from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. on the first floor of White hall, between the wings of the building. Polls will remain open during the noon hour.

Members of the Student council will count the votes in the office of the dean of men, immediately after the closing of the polls.

Election of officers of other classes will be held as soon as arrangements can be made, and after the newly elected president of the senior class has assumed his duties as a member of the Student council.

Names of those who were nominated by petitions signed by members of the senior class, and presented to the dean of men are as follows: Hamilton Greenup and Smith Broadbent, president; Hazel Mattingly and Ann Jones, vice-president; William Nichols and Nell Montgomery, secretary; and Lucian Congleton and Eugene Cowley, treasurer.

By Ignited Asphalt*Leonard Tracy Is Painfully Injured In Attempt To Put Out Fire

Leonard Tracy, instructor in the department of English, was burned about the face and hands at 9:30 a. m., yesterday, when attempting to extinguish a fire on the roof of the Geary tobacco warehouse on South Broadway.

Tracy was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital where physicians said that his condition was not serious. A fire extinguisher which he was using to extinguish the small blaze exploded, throwing burning asphalt on one side of his face and on both hands. His glasses protected his eyes from the hot asphalt.

Tracy was working for the Central Kentucky Roofing and Supply company at the time of the accident. He received his M. A. degree from the University last spring, and has announced the football games at Stoll field this fall.

At a meeting of SuKy circle held at 5 p. m. Tuesday in the Men's gymnasium, the members voted to send Miles Davis to the Washington and Lee-Kentucky football game in Roanoke, Virginia, tomorrow, to lead the Kentucky cheering section. A contest for applicants for prospective cheer leaders will be sponsored by SuKy Friday, October 27, at the pep meeting preceding the Kentucky-Duke game. All men students are eligible to compete in the contest. The best applicants will appear again at the game the following day, at which time, members of SuKy will make their final choice of cheer leaders.

SuKy will sponsor the sale of candy at the Kentucky-Vanderbilt freshman game tomorrow, it was decided at the meeting. Dan Ewing will have charge of the sales.

The next SuKy meeting will be held at 5 p. m., Tuesday, October 24 in the Alumni gymnasium.

Victor R. Portmann, assistant professor in the Journalism department, will be speaker at the fall meeting of the Jeffersonian Boosters club at 2 p. m. Saturday, October 21, at Jefferson hall, Jefferson town. He will discuss county correspondents and their work.

National Pan-Hellenic Conference

Gordon Burns, senior of the College of Commerce, and representative of the University at the National Inter-fraternity conference, which met at Chicago this week, was elected national president of that organization.

Burns will serve until the next meeting of the Council which will be held in New York city during the Thanksgiving holidays in 1934. He assumed his duties at the opening session of the convention and presided throughout.

In addition to other campus activities, Burns is president of the University Inter-fraternity council, president of Omicron Delta Kappa, member of the Student council, and member of Alpha Sigma Phi, social fraternity.

Approximately 60 colleges and universities from all parts of the United States were represented at the meeting.

Three main topics were brought before the conference for discussion; namely, finance, rushing, and other activities, the latter including scholarship, social activities, and athletics. The complete minutes of the meeting will be printed at a later date. A resolution was made by Burns to adopt a standard key for all the Inter-fraternity council chapters.

Talks were made at the convention by Dr. Francis W. Shepherdson, who is national president of Beta Theta Pi, one of the oldest and most prominent of the Inter-fraternity organizations of Phi Beta Kappa, editor of Banta's Greek Exchange, and Baird's Manual, president of the American Association of College Honor societies, and honorary member of ODK; Dean William L. Sanders, dean of men at Ohio Wesleyan, national vice-president of ODK, and educational adviser of Inter-fraternity council. Incidentally, Dean Sanders spoke at the Greek convocation of the University last year. Norman H. Hackett, member of the Inter-fraternity conference and Doctor Heckles, dean of men at the University of Missouri also delivered addresses.

Humorous Magazine To Make Debut Soon

According to Prof. Victor R. Portmann, department of journalism, the "Kampus Kat," humorous magazine of the campus, will be forthcoming soon. Plans have been made to issue one edition for the Homecoming game with Tennessee if possible, and one at Halloween.

This magazine, which is of a burlesque type, is sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and is prepared and edited almost entirely by members of the local chapter. Wesley Carter, editor-in-chief of The Kernel, is editor of the "Kat." Cost of a single copy which may be purchased at the Campus Book store, will be 25 cents.

PITKIN LUNCHEON TO BE HELD OCT. 25

Pitkin club, a luncheon organization sponsored by the Y. W. and Y. M. C. George Heaton, pastor of the Felix Memorial Baptist church, will be leader of the club again this year.

Lunch for the meetings is to be served by the Women's Auxiliary of the Maxwell street Presbyterian church.

Frosh Caps Have Colorful History

By DAVID SALVERS

They're here at last! Again we see bobbing up and down around the campus those little abbreviated chapeaus which for 30 years have been one of the most cherished traditions of the University. Wherever one goes, he usually sees in the distance a flash of blue and white atop some touselled mop which, upon closer observation, turns out to be a good old "freshman cap." For the past few years, this tradition has waned, and procuring and wearing of freshman caps has been delayed, but it is certainly a good sight to see these "distinctive lids," again and know that beneath every one is a true freshman who is proud of his class and his University.

While meditating upon aforesaid chapeaus, it might be well to recall briefly a little of their history; who started the custom, why, and so forth. This is their story and they're sticking to it!

The first step taken was by the class of '17, or rather the freshman class of '13. One bright sunny day, these gentlemen decided that the prevalent custom of "head-shaving" then in its prime, was the most abominable phase of horse-play, and the idea of the "freshman cap" was conceived. Therefore, these gentlemen held a meeting, and decided on a cap and set up rules for the wearing of it. At that time, each class had its only colors, aside from the traditional blue-and-white of the University. Accordingly, a short while later there appeared on the campus, and on the heads of the freshmen, black caps, similar in style to the regular dress cap of today, and bearing on the front in gold: "Ky. '17," making a black and gold color scheme, and thus conforming with the colors of that particular freshman class. The freshmen wore these devoutly, and head-shaving was stopped for the time.

Our little history then shifts for its next step to 1917. It seems that during the intervening years the old head-shaving had been started again. One authority tells of an incident at the mass meeting held on the lawn in front of Mechanical hall in 1917 in honor of the incoming president, Frank L. McVey. When the president mounted the platform and gazed out upon the student body, he was met with a perfect galaxy of bald heads gleaming brightly in the sun, and was heard to remark, in so many words, "I thought I was to be president of a civilized group of students."

We again skip over a period of years, presumably, "head-shaving" years, until about 1923 or '24. Some time during this period the Student council, upon urgent request from everyone, officially passed a resolution banning "head-shaving" and officially declared and ordained the wearing of a "freshman cap" to distinguish first-year men. A new style of cap was adopted, the "over-seas cap," the same type of cap worn with military uniforms at present. They were blue and white, the traditional University colors, and bore the same lettering as the original '13 caps, except on the left front side. These caps were used continually until about 1929 or '30, when the present style was adopted.

So with this little "biography of the freshman cap" as a background, we hail their reappearance, the taking up again of an old custom. Long may it live, and long may they wave!

TAG DAY PLANNED

Omicron Delta Kappa plans to have "tag days" on October 26 and 27 prior to the Duke game for the benefit of the Student Union Building fund.

These tags will be sold for five cents each by U. K. coeds and will have "BEAT DUKE" printed on them. It is hoped that all of the students will buy these tags to help the Union Building fund and also to promote pep and enthusiasm among the students.

ENGINEERS MEET
IN CONVOCATION*Dean Anderson and Milford
Noel Address Students
Wednesday In First Assembly of Year

Dean F. Paul Anderson of the College of Engineering, and Milford Noel, graduate of the Engineering college, were the principal speakers on a program presented to the engineering body at 10 a. m. Wednesday, in Memorial hall. This meeting marked the first general assembly of the Engineering college this year. The subject of Dean Anderson's speech was "Why the Engineer?" Mr. Noel's topic covered his work in the Department of Commerce.

According to Dean Anderson, the engineering student has an advantage over the other students on the campus, and that the "score" now stands "two to nothing" in his favor. "A high percentage of the great men of today hail from small towns and attended small colleges," he said. Dean Anderson further stated that the desire for an education should not over-ride the desire to make friendships and to develop one's personality, as student association is one of the greatest things of college and campus life, and that the main reason for one attending college should be for the purpose of taking advantage of that priceless gift called comradeship.

"Humanity is divided into two parts," he said. "First, the thinker, which is of the lowest order; second, the doer, which is the important one, possessed of the ability to have the hands to do things the brain tells them to do."

KITTENS - VANDY
PLAY SATURDAY*Transylvania and Georgetown
Play On Stoll Field
Following Frosh
Game*KITTING CHANCES GOOD

By N. C. GARLING
Football fans in Lexington and central Kentucky will have the unusual opportunity of witnessing a double-header football game Saturday afternoon on Stoll field. In the first game Coach Pribble's Kittens, making their season's debut, will meet the Vanderbilt frosh at 1 p. m., and the Transylvania Pioneers, renew their feud with the Georgetown college Bengals in the night-cap, which will be called as soon as the first melee is concluded.

Transylvania will have charge of all ticket sales, but when allowing the North Broadway institution the use of the field, Athletic director S. A. Boles included in the stipulation that all University students and faculty be admitted on their season books.

The renewal of this annual event is one of great interest this year, insofar as Vanderbilt defeated the Kittens last year by a score of 13 to 0. The yearlings are determined to beat them this year by a large margin and gain their revenge to full account.

In their preparations for this game, the Kittens have also helped the Varsity prepare for their game with Washington and Lee university at Roanoke, Virginia, which will be played at the same time the Kittens are playing Vanderbilt. The two teams have scrimmaged every day this week, and these scrimmages were just as tough as if they were actual games. There seems to be a blood-thirsty tinge between Wildcats and Kittens, because they go at each other with hammer and tongs.

Tuesday and most of Wednesday the practices were devoted to the Varsity's offense, something that they have been rather weak in all year. During the last half of Wednesday's practice the Kittens were on the offensive, using Washington and Lee plays, but they did not fare so well. Their attack was mostly to the left side of the line and they were usually stopped cold at the line of scrimmage.

Bert Johnson, former Ashland ace, was not in the scrimmage on Wednesday, due to a call from home saying that his mother was ill. It is hoped that he will be back for the game Saturday.

Homier Nicholas, former Kentucky Military Institute star, left a big gap at right end, when he left for Texas the other day. Earl Bryant has taken his place, and thus far has been doing very well. Burnice Bates, another star from Kentucky Military Institute, received a deep gash under his left eye in Wednesday's fracas.

Confident that at last they had developed an offense that would click, Coach Harry Gamage's husky Wildcat football squad left Lexington last night at 8:15 for Roanoke, Virginia, where they will attempt to lengthen their record of four straight wins when they meet the powerful Generals of Washington and Lee at 1:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) Saturday.

The Wildcats went through their final heavy scrimmage of the week Wednesday when they again took on Coach Birkett L. Pribble's powerful yearling aggregation. Coach Gamage kept the Big Blue on the offense throughout most of the scrimmage and he seemed very well pleased with the showing that they made against the Yearlings. Tom Cassidy, who has been kept out of practice recently because of an attack of appendicitis is back in the lineup and will probably see plenty of action in the Washington and Lee game.

A broadcast of the Kentucky-Washington and Lee football game will be made at the Ben All and Kentucky theaters, Saturday afternoon, when the University Wildcats engage the Generals on the field at Roanoke, Virginia. A similar play-by-play account of the game will be presented by the Lexington Leader in front of the Leader office. The game will be called at 1:30 Central Standard time.

The Wildcat offense has improved considerably this week and Coach Gamage will probably place a much more powerful team on the field against W. and L. than he has used in previous games this season. Pritchard, who was kept out of the early games because of an injury that he received last season, is back in tip top shape and promises to be one of the Wildcats' biggest threats during the rest of the season. Pritchard has had little opportunity to carry the ball very much so far this season because it was necessary to use him as a blocker, but with the return of Cassidy and Jean to the lineup he has been shifted to the other halfback position where he will have ample opportunity to display his ability as a ball carrier. In the final scrimmage Wednesday afternoon Pritchard proved his worth when he repeatedly refused to be stopped by several would-be freshman tacklers and reeled off several substantial gains.

Although Washington and Lee is not boasting of as good a record as the Wildcats they have been pointing to the game for sometime and they are promising to offer the Big Blue plenty of opposition. The Generals will probably use six Kentucky players.

POULTRY GROUP
HOLDS MEETING*Visitors Inspect Experiment Station Poultry Plant, and Study Results of Breeding Experiments

Poultry raisers from almost every section of Kentucky attended their annual fall meeting Wednesday at the Experiment station. The visitors studied results of breeding experiments, which have been conducted under the supervision of J. Holmes Martin, professor of poultry husbandry at the College of Agriculture.

An inspection of the Experiment station poultry plant and flocks was held from 10 a. m. until 12 noon. One experiment in outcrossing for higher egg production proved especially interesting to the visitors. In this experiment, good hens have been crossed with males bred for high production. As a result of this plan, improvements were noted in the rate of maturity, winter and yearly egg production, fertility, and egg weight.

Luncheon was served in the livestock pavilion at 12 noon. Dean Thomas P. Cooper, director of the Experiment station, welcomed the visitors at 1:15 p. m.

Other speakers on the afternoon program included G. Davis Buckner, chemist in animal nutrition at the experiment station, who reported on the World's Poultry congress at Rome, from which he has just returned, and Dr. M. A. Jull of the United States Department of Agriculture, whose subject was, "The Poultry Industry; Kentucky's Part." Prof. D. G. Card, assistant professor of agriculture economics at the College of Agriculture, gave an address on "The Poultry and Egg Outlook." Following the program of speeches, the remainder of the meeting was devoted to questions and answers.

Anderson Named For Office In Dahlia Society

By HELEN ALFREY

Derrill W. Hart, New York, U. K. graduate for whom the dahlia garden on the campus is named, was recently elected president of the American Dahlia society. Dean Paul F. Anderson was elected one of the vice-presidents.

Mr. Hart is editor of "The American Home," and is rated as one of the greatest dahlia authorities in America. He has obtained many of the latest and most famous varieties of dahlias for the University garden.

The Derrill W. Hart Dahlia garden has one of the finest collections of dahlias in existence. It is through the continuous efforts of Mr. Hart and Dean Anderson that this great variety of dahlias has been collected. It has been a difficult task, as dahlia growers are extremely jealous of each other and do not wish to share their rare specimens.

At the fourth annual dahlia show held September 30 and October 1 at the Hotel Alms, Cincinnati, the only first-class certificate given was awarded to the dahlia garden of the University. This was the highest award for flowers of superior merit that showed evidence of skillful cultivation. This handsomely engrossed certificate has been received by the University. The Derrill W. Hart Dahlia garden also sent a fine exhibit of exquisite blooms to the Louisville dahlia show, September 22, at the Kentucky hotel in Louisville.

The Derrill W. Hart dahlia garden was founded in order to bring to the students, faculty, and visitors a beautiful expression of the floriculture art. There are many persons who find much pleasure in observing the variety and color in dahlias. The dahlia is said to lend itself to more different colors than any other flower.

The 19th annual show of the American Dahlia society was held recently at the Pennsylvania hotel in New York, with the largest attendance of any dahlia show ever held in this country. Many dahlias similar to the ones grown in our garden on the campus were exhibited at the national show. Mr. Hart, who compiled the annual dahlia roll of honor, was much pleased with the exhibition.

The dahlia was found originally in Mexico and was afterwards propagated and cultivated in Holland, but today America leads the world in the creation of new dahlias. The University is proud of its famous garden for it has been complimented by the outstanding dahlia growers of the continent.

Manufacturer have other uses for pigskin besides for footballs. Angelucci and Ringo have gotten in a lot of dark brown pigskin gloves. Nothing original in pigskin and certainly nothing rare in dark brown, but when these two are combined they form the much sought-after "new" thing. These gloves are the first of their kind in dark brown. They are slip-ons, doing away with the snap that never stays fastened. They are of soft smooth texture and a pigskin that even sideliners can handle.

Even red flannels have their points and Denton's jersey pajamas will star. They are just the thing for shivery nights. The colors themselves might be called hot, and are cheerful to say the least. The garments are two-piece and have sleeves to keep you from getting colder while groping for more cover. But there are little puffed sleeves for those who dislike to have their elbows confined. The pajamas are named "Chic" and rightly so.

Need a beret to go with the new sport coat? The Fair Store has some imported from Italy and they have a seal to prove it. They are called Bordini Berets. The shape is roundish, the colors various, and your initials are given you to sew on your choice. The initials are newer after aeroplanes and insignias.

Embry & Company Knitwear department has in two new models that prove Lexington women demand the latest thing in fashion. One is a warm-colored sweater suit with matching hat and gauntlet gloves. A feather has been thoughtfully provided for the hat to symbolize the feather in your imaginary cap when you appear in this outfit. The second model is a velvet sport suit of a soft shade of green. Velvet is going to be used a good deal for suits and suit trimmings. They also have a new lot of the popular twin sweaters. A member of our campus is in the department during the afternoon. She promises to see that you get the best service possible and that is quite an inducement.

Clever things, these "Everlasting Match" lighters at Wolf Wile's notion counter. The name is composed of two parts: "everlasting," to signify their span of life, and "match," to express their style. You unscrew the "match" and strike it along the metal side of the case. It flares up as a match does. The lighter comes in two kinds of cases, one of which is a small red one, and the other, a longer metal one. Take your choice.

"Etiquette" Topic Of Frosh Y.W.C.A. Talk

"Etiquette," was the subject of a talk given by Miss Gertrude Wade, Home Economics department, at a meeting of freshmen members of the Y.W.C.A., Wednesday afternoon, and again at 7:15 p. m. Thursday.
Miss Wade discussed the history of etiquette, which she said began during the days of knighthood, and traced its course through the years until the present day, showing changes in custom. A group discussion of rules of etiquette which college girls should know and observe followed.

The second talk which Miss Wade presented was intended for girls who were unable to attend the Wednesday meeting, and was held in Patterson hall. "Types of Clothes" will be the subject of Miss Wade's next talk, which will be given soon.

Temperance courses will be offered by all grade schools in Kansas this fall.

PETITE PIECE

By LORRAINE LEFERE

I have been finding things out right and left—about our dear teachers. I mean. One of them is an ardent photographer. He has an excellent camera and enjoys nothing more than a day spent in what he likes to call "messing around, photographically speaking." So lately he hid himself out to the Narcotic farm and was all set to take a nice panorama when he backed up slightly and fell right into a fifteen-foot ditch. Somehow he elbowed out and restored as much of his dignity as was possible, when a dog came up and bit him. Rather upsetting, what?

I wish more of the students could hear some of these Matriculation lectures the Arts and Sciences freshmen are required to listen to. Probably the most helpful and inspirational talk was that given by President McVey not long ago; for it was unique in its simplicity and straight-forwardness.

Have you ever noticed what people do when they are listening to a speaker, talking on the telephone, or otherwise indirectly engaged? Given a paper and pencil, I can draw more G clefs and staves than have ever been used in the history of musical literature.

A young Californian who is fast blazing a trail around our campus tells me that: "Diplomacy is the art of creating definite impressions from an indefinite expression." Diplomacy... Let's talk about that. Of course we like the people who say what they mean, and vice versa. Or we say we do. And we respect those people upon whose opinion we can rely. But how many of us can take it when they have something to say that is not exactly agreeable, no matter how truthful it may be? If a diplomat is going to say agreeable things, he's going to be well liked. Everybody's going to have a good word for him. And that brings us up to another point. Do we like these people who are everybody's friend? Personally I'm afraid of them. I think they must be insincere. Diplomacy makes for politics. In fact, I'm not so sure that it isn't the foundation of the political machinery.

Look around among your friends, as I have been doing lately, and decide for yourself which of them are intelligent, and which are intellectual. Which of them have that instinct from within, and which of them have acquired their knowledge from books, and society. There is a very fine point of distinction between the two, and it's not always easy to discriminate. You can tell a lot about people when you've discovered this about them. I like the weather lately.

Work has begun at the University of California, at Berkeley, on a new cross-country course which is being designed to afford a complete view of the race by both judges and spectators.

The very life of life!
In its brief course lies all the varieties of your experience:
The bliss of growth,
The glory of action,
The splendor of beauty.

For yesterday is but a dream
And tomorrow is only a vision,
But today well lived

Minihan-Quinn

The marriage of Miss Edith Minihan and Mr. Francis Joseph Quinn was solemnized at 7 a. m. last Saturday at the St. Paul's church, with the Rev. Father Walsh officiating.

The church was elaborately decorated with ferns, palms, and candles for the impressive service and Nuptial Mass. Music was furnished by Miss Rose O'Neill, organist, and Mr. John Scully, soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Margaret E. Minihan. Miss Martha Minihan, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. They were met at the church by the groom and best man, who was Thomas Dunn, of Milwaukee, Wis.

The bride wore a brown tulle suit trimmed with fox, and brown suede accessories. She wore a shoulder bouquet of tallman roses.

The maid of honor was gowned in bronze green wool with brown accessories, and her shoulder bouquet was of yellow roses.

Mrs. Minihan was attired in eel gray crepe gown, and black hat and slippers. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

The wedding party and members of the two families were entertained with a reception at the home of the bride immediately following the ceremonies. Mrs. Minihan and Misses Ellen and Dorothy Minihan received the guests.

Later the bridal couple left for a trip in the East, after which they will be at home at 209 Desha Road.

The bride is a graduate of the University, where she was a member of Theta Sigma Phi, Chi Delta Phi, and society editor of The Kernel.

Mr. Quinn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Quinn of St. Joseph, Mo., and is a graduate of Notre Dame University. He is now connected with the Western Adjustment and Inspection company in Lexington.

Pitzer-Cogswell
Recent announcement has just been made of the marriage of Miss Guinevere Pitzer to Mr. Henry Creston Cogswell the evening of March 25, 1933 at the former home of the bride on West Third street. The late father of the bride, Rev. H. H. Pitzer, performed the ceremony in the presence of two immediate families.

The bride is a graduate of the University, having been transferred from Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., after her sophomore year. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and has recently been connected with the Family Welfare Society in Lexington.

The groom is also a graduate of the University, where he was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi, Delta Sigma Phi, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Scabbard and Blade. He is now connected with the Lexington Herald.

Founders' Day Banquet
Alpha Chi chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority observed the anniversary of its founding with its traditional annual banquet Tuesday evening at Teacup Inn. The dinner was given in the gray room, and the table was lighted with blue candles, carrying out the colors of the sorority.

Before the banquet, appropriate chapter ceremonies commemorating the event were held. At the conclusion of the evening, the members united in singing the beautiful songs of the sorority.

About 40 guests were present, who included, beside the members of the sorority, Mrs. Robert W. Miles, Mrs. A. B. McCormick, Mrs. W. E. Davis, Miss Gladys Wilson, Miss Lucille Preston, Miss May Gordon Squires, and Miss Marie Taylor.

Zeta Tau Alpha Bridge
The members of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority entertained with a bridge party at the chapter house Wednesday afternoon, honoring new girls at the university. The house was beautifully decorated with fall flowers and ferns. At the conclusion of the card games, a delicious buffet supper was served under the direction of Mrs. A. B. McCormick, the housemother. She was assisted by Mrs. D. B. Anderson, president of the Zeta Tau Alpha Mothers' club.

The members of the sorority are Misses Lucy Jean Anderson, Dorothy Clifton, Kitty Cooke, Aleene Hall, Ellabeth Montague, Virginia Riley, Dorothy Teegarden, Muriel Wism, Virginia Lamb, Dorothy Lee Martin, Aida Urrutia, Jeanette Sparks, Ruth Averitt, Frances Bush, Carolyn Sparks, Goldie Vaught, Mary Trisch, Dolores Shannon, Helen Rich, Amelia Carrick, Mary Sibley, Mildred Smoot, Louise Kuykendahl, Mildred Perry, and Neva Nelson Sutherland.

Dutch Lunch Club
The Dutch Lunch club will meet today at noon in the recreation room of Patterson hall. Miss Marjorie West will preside over the business meeting, following which the members will be entertained by a group of songs by Mr. Harlowe Dean, Jr.

Alpha Xi Delta Mothers' Club
The Mother's club of Alpha Xi Delta met at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. J. Garrel, Linden Walk. Mrs. W. L. Heizer, the president, was in charge of the meeting.

Musical Tea
Dr. A. W. Kelley will entertain with a musical tea from 4 to 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon at his apartment, 238 Arlington avenue. This is the second in a series of two teas which Dr. Kelley is giving for invited guests, the first having been given last Sunday. The program will consist of a group of organ solos. Dr. Kelley will be assisted by Mr. Charles Starns, violinist, and Mr. John Richardson, pianist.

Bridge Party for Rushes
Alpha Theta of Delta Zeta entertained with a novelty bridge party from four to six Wednesday afternoon at the chapter house on south Lime.

The affair was called a "topsy-turvy" bridge and included several amusing stunts, with a prize offered to the guest making the average score. Sandwiches and tea were served at the conclusion of the game.

Miss Carolyn Stewart and Miss Gayle Elliott were in charge of the entertainment, assisted by Mrs. Sarah Joutt and the members and pledges of the sorority.

SENIOR ELECTIONS

Seniors, today you will select your class officers in an election which is being held in White hall under the supervision of the Student council. It is your duty as well as privilege to vote.

The senior class heads fill important positions on the campus and if you are at all interested in the welfare of student activities, you are duty bound to do your part by voting for the individual who you feel is best qualified for the position.

Always there is complaining and grumbling about the actions of this or that class official and remarks made about dirty student politics. And nine times out of ten, the persons who do the most of this grumbling and censoring are students who have not even taken the trouble to vote.

It is true that in the past many of the complaints against the policies of the Student council were due, but at the beginning of the present semester, the council was completely reorganized and an unquestionably fair election is a certainty.

The president of the senior class holds one of the most important positions on the campus, for he not only heads the activities of his class, but automatically becomes a member of the Student council. Two men have been nominated by petitions for this position. Both are well known on the campus and all are doubtless worthy of the position. It is for you to make your decision and take your choice.

Two persons have been nominated for each of the positions of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. Two of the nominees for vice-president and secretary are co-eds. This presents an opportunity for the large percentage of women students to give the members of their own sex a break by selecting them for these positions.

We repeat, make your own decision, go to the polls and vote, or forever hold your peace!

THE PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

Coming before the people of Lexington on November 7th is a vitally important issue, namely the NRA Public Works Bond Issue. A chance will be given to do something towards putting this community further along the road to recovery. It is a means by which unemployment can nearly be completely eliminated. No Lexington it can be the complete return of prosperity.

Everyone recognizes that the people who are unfortunate enough to be out of work must be taken care of in some suitable manner. The whole question is whether or not it is to be done by outright direct grants to individuals or whether the aid will be employed in useful services. The answer is so overwhelmingly in favor of the latter proposition that it is hardly worthy of discussion. Nevertheless, the facts will be stated. The city needs each of the items included in the bond issue. The sewers are in bad need of replacement and this can be proved by going down Main street after a hard rain. The two community centers are highly desirable and if adopted they will decrease the number of crimes committed to a large degree. The new jail will be as much an improvement as the present one is not. All these projects are worth while and it is certainly better to have the unemployed paid by useful and actual work than it is to give them a dole.

In regard to the financial aspects of the plan, the terms of the loan could not be better. An outright gift of 30 per cent is granted and only the remaining 70 per cent is borrowed. The city has asked for $1,312,510 and to this will be added the additional 30 per cent, which is $562,500. Figuring on the total amount of money the city can obtain from the government for these projects, the interest rate would be but 2.8 per cent. No rate of interest could possibly or will be any lower than this. Therefore it is also good business to borrow this money at this time.

This is the President's plan and he is the leader of this movement. The nation has proved it is solidly behind its leader, and it is therefore the duty of each citizen to vote in favor of this bond issue.

It is with pleasure that The Kernel notes the appointment of President McVey as leader of this campaign in the University. We are assured that it will be in capable and sympathetic hands. The Kernel urges the students to thoroughly support this issue and to vote "Yes" at the polls on November 7th.

CHEERING SECTION

Major Brewer has conceived what ought to be a good workable idea, in connection with a new cheering section. Recently it has seemed that while we had all the enthusiasm necessary, and while our yells were ably taken care of by Suky, there might be some way of making this enthusiasm more effective.

With all the freshmen in caps, the idea of a block "K" suggests itself. All the big schools have them, in fact, they are probably the first thing one notices on entering the bowl. However, the caps aren't all that's necessary, for there would not be enough of a medium of distinguishing the block. The members of the letter ought to wear blue sweaters, of a light enough color so that they would be readily seen as a center of attention.

Recently, at one of the games, all the students of a certain college came and sat together. When they yelled, you could hear them. There was a sort of co-operation from them that the others did not give. If the cheer leaders had a certain group on whom they could rely, and if this group were made up of males, who, after all, can make the most noise, there would be more of a spirit to the games.

One of the things that has caused this block letter idea to be ignored for so long is the fact that it really is a great deal of work and tiresome labor to work out the block, and then see that all the students sit in it, and are properly dressed for it. Another thing is that many of the students would have to go to the game without their girl friends. This seems to be generally frowned upon by the boys.

It has been requested that freshmen leave their girls at the gate, anyway, and sit together to cheer. While this has not been made a rule, freshmen ought to want to co-operate with it, for a thing that is not forced upon us is more likely to be a thing we want to do, for it is optional. If this same thing were to be made a rule, something that we had to do, there wouldn't be near the amount of people with the desire to make it go over.

As long as we have somebody who wants to help us with a new cheering section, and as long as we know that we want and need one, we should give our whole-hearted attention to it and see if we can't make something out of it. It's worth trying, anyway, and Major Brewer deserves a lot of credit, and co-operation for thinking this thing up.

Jest Among Us

Will wonders never cease; there's actually a freshman co-ed on the campus who can still blush after five weeks at the University.

When we pause to look back over the years, we can not help but wonder if we too, looked as distinctive as the present crop of Frosh in their little blue caps.

A spot of serene tranquility—The Kernel newsroom on Monday and Thursday afternoons—come up and see for yourself sometime.

Question on typing room blackboard: "How do you determine which finger to use on a certain key?" That's easy; use either the right fore-finger, or the left fore-finger, and you can't go wrong.

Look Her Up, Boys
The Kernel is to be congratulated upon having as one of its writers the modest, yet charming little miss, Kay Woods.

And then there was the freshman who thought that L. C. Smith was a University co-ed.

QUIS VADIT?

—CRADDOCK

By JOHNNIE CRADDOCK

This young lawyer was 15 years' old when he opened his first case. After opening his third case, he was tossed into the hoosegow for possession. The jury men were all too short to reach a verdict so they woke the prisoner and released him.

Repeated entanglements with the law led our dapper hero to be a barrister. He could not afford to engage a lawyer so he defended himself, thereby, winning all his cases on the plea of self-defense.

After getting 18 divorces for Peggy Hopkins Joyce, he came to Kentucky to teach law. Surely he possesses that subtle something which makes successful lawyers, for nine out of every ten of his law graduates make excellent bartenders. Every morning, after the class stands and sings their theme song, "At the Bar—At the Bar," he emphasizes, "Gentlemen, among lawyers, honesty is the best policy, but who cares about a policy?"

His favorite pastimes are swindling the public, sending old widows to jail, and teaching young lawyers the proper technique in stuffing ballot boxes. It is hinted that he is very adept at riding a bicycle to and from classes. He was once a favorite radio speaker but finally was ruled off the air after he had smashed several microphones in an attempt to lend emphasis and action to one of his soap-box addresses.

Who is this man?

Although a talk on "Etiquette" was given to incoming girls, we can't help but think that it might have been a good idea to have invited some seniors to attend.

Back in the 70's at Penn State College, the permission of the president as well as the approval of the Dean of Women was necessary to secure a date with a co-ed.

A new form of motion picture censorship emanating from Ohio State University provides for courses in motion picture appreciation for high school and university students. The idea is to put the censorship in the box office, rather than to attempt to legislate good motion pictures.

A Georgia Tech student unnecessarily repeated a course in the same room under the same professor without either of them realizing the fact.

Scandal Snickerings

By CAMERON COFFMAN

Our snoopers again inform us that Sigmaky Irvyn Faber has placed his pin on Zetaw Babe Martine.

Why Not Try the Browning Room? The team of Kadee Margaret Greathouse and Gornon "Red" symphon has been utilizing room 201, Science building, in which to do their courting. (We couldn't say the Georgy lab as Dr. McFarlan sent word that he invites us to take a class under his instruction...he guarantees us an "E" for his department's publicity.)

More Business, Doctor Flancey In a hard fought game of "sniffle" at the Three D Stables last Monday night somebody caught a cold...Virginia Brown's team won by a snuffle.

Could This Be Love? We wonder about the desire of Kadee pietette, Sarah Kinney, to attend the Washington & Lee-Kentucky game in Koanoke tomorrow.

Phidelt Red Davis, who has been listed among the "Has Beens" for sometime, claims that he is staging a comeback...his new project hails from Millersburg, 'tis said...he has been taking exercises to get in trim for the marathon, according to Bob Galtskill.

It seems that Zetaw Billie Carrick was much confused on registration day...Finally her advisor, Dr. Allen, said, "How would you like to take this anatomy and physiology by appointment?"...Billy replied blushing, "No thank you, sir. I think that I had better take it with the rest of the class."

Don't Violate the Code The Sigmakys have joined the N. R. A....they're doing their part...the Tridelts did theirs...and a new custom has been initiated upon the campus...fraternity open houses for sororities, a custom which has proved itself popular on many campuses in the Big Ten may find similar popularity on the Kentucky campus.

Losing Your Grip, Delmar? Delmar "Grandland Rice" Adams, after calling at the Zetaw house for his date, Betty Whipp, found out that he had been left standing at the post (commonly called "Stood Up")...But Delmar proceeded to divide his attention among the other members of the lodge...Tis said they had Delmar barking for them before he left.

The Alphasigs take much pride in having two members of the Dean of Men's personnel...Lysle Croft, who is the assistant dean and the office boy.

Kappa Risa Hieronymus has instigated a new form of dancing at the Maxwell street lodge...You ought to "go up and see it sometime."

Couldn't You Find a Better Place, Harry? Pickap Harry Kremer, while out driving with his girl, ran out of gas in front of the Phoenix hotel

The marriage of Tridelt Mary Lynn and a Mr. Shroup, a lawyer of Washington, D. C., has been announced.

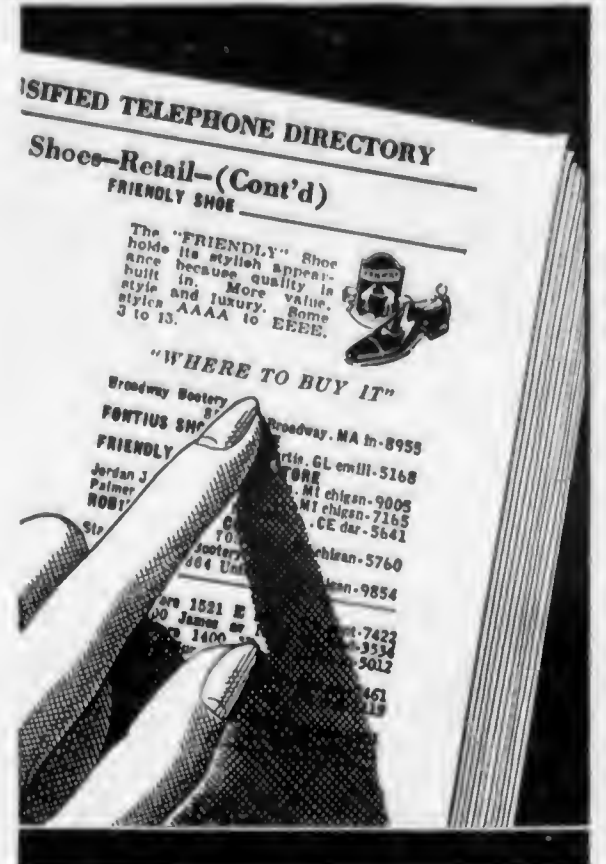

Tridelts Dot Whitsett and Elizo Barbleux have enrolled in the horseback riding class...Elizo is prepping for a non-stop endurance ride to Hazard and Dot is preparing for the coming winter when her Hupmobile will be unfit for service.

Chio pleb, Martha Wood Neblett's feminine curiosity tends toward the inspection of coffee cups in fraternity houses.

Whatawoman! Tis rumored that Tridelt Bertha Grimes has been dating two Sigmakys with much ardor...The lucky boys are Howard Smathers and Hargess Hughes... (Better check up on them, Howard).

Another campus romance seems to be on the wing...That of Kappa pleb, Emily Watson, and Delta Roscoe Stephens.

Also that of Phidelt pleb, Dossel Reed and Mary Lally, Kappa plebette.

A strategic point in the battle for sales

Today's intense competition calls for new and more effective merchandising methods. Several plans pioneered by Bell System men are proving helpful.

For example: the "Where to Buy It" section of the telephone book. Here local dealers are listed beneath the trade-marks of advertised products—such as Plymouth, Greyhound Lines, Exide, RCA Victor. This service helps manufacturers to reduce substitution, helps dealers to increase sales, helps you to locate the brand you want.

Kentucky VS. Washington-Lee

"PLAN A PARTY"

The Kick-off!!! — and when Kentucky's Big Blue charges down the field, you will get the play in a split second — and from then on you'll get all the action — all the color that Neville Dunn puts into his detailed play-by-play account of the Kentucky-Washington Lee Game — Then after you have heard the game from the comfortable seats of The Ben Ali or Kentucky theaters, — stay for the picture — or if you like, come early and see the picture before the game — And all this at no advance in prices — and as a friendly warning, come early and you won't have to stand.

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

KENTUCKY "LADIES MUST LOVE" OR BEN ALI "LIFE OF JIMMY DOLAN"

Playing one of the toughest schedules in the country, the Washington and Lee Generals are expected to be at the height of their strength Saturday afternoon when they meet the Wildcats in Roanoke, Virginia. With six Kentuckians on their squad they should make the Cats feel very much at home. Captain Amos Bolen is a former Ashland High school performer and is one of the best guards ever to wear the Blue and White of W. and L.

Joe Arnold, another Kentuckian, was a former Danville high luminary. Joe called signals in both the Yale and William and Mary tussles and is said by the Virginians to be a talented field general. Other boys from the Bluegrass state are: Richard Gumm, guard, Ashland; William Ellis, end, Ashland; Jay Henthorne, end, Ashland; Jack Bailey, fullback, Maysville.

From the way the varsity was man-handling the frosh in the scrimmage sessions the past week, it seems like the 'Cats have deserted their roles as the superb hitless wonders. With "Big Boy" Pritchard and "Schnozzle" Cassidy dashing through, over, and around the dazzled frosh aggregation, the varsity was able to gain all afternoon. Cassidy snapped pass after pass and turned in some neat runs as well.

Many new plays are being doped out which will be used in the Duke game. If the 'Cats can safely hurdle the Generals and hold the Blue Devils in check, they have an excellent chance of upsetting the Crimson Tide of Alabama on November 4, and taking a prominent place in Southern football. There is a might big IF in these foregoing words. Firstly the Generals are nobody's set-up, and secondly those Duke Blue Devils and Wallace Wade (Wade in particular) have a way of upsetting Kentucky's title hopes.

Even though the 'Cats will be out of town Saturday, the student body and fans have an attractive program in store for them. In addition to the Kitten-Vanderbilt frosh game on Stoll field, Coach Carey Spicer's Georgetown Tigers and the Transylvania Pioneers will clash following the frosh struggle. Both of these games will be hard fought and will be very interesting. The Transy-Georgetown feud dates back to 1893 and the number of wins are about evenly divided. But since 1923, there has been no Transylvania victory. Last year the Crimson came nearest to its cherished triumph, losing 14-13 in the final minutes.

After a 9-0 deadlock with Coach "Turkey" Hughes' Eastern Maroons last week, Georgetown is not as heavy a favorite to win from the Pioneers as they were before that time. In all of their previous games this season the Pioneers have been outwitted, but were never out fought. Now that they are meeting a team of somewhat their own strength they should put up a great exhibition.

Birkett Lee Pribble's frosh, with some of the most talented frosh ever to report on Stoll field, are given an excellent chance to turn back the Vandy frosh. Little is known of the strength of the baby Commodores, but they invariably turn out a crackerjack aggregation at the Nashville institution. Some of the stars the frosh will exhibit for the first time are: Terry, a giant 225-pound guard of Ironton, Ohio; Nevers, a 220-pound tackle from New Britain, Conn.; and Johnson, Kunz and Farris, backs from Ashland.

Basketball practice starts Monday, in order to give Coach Adolph Rupp time to whip his new material into shape for the hard schedule that faces his team. With but two regulars returning, he indeed faces a herculean task. Dave Lawrence, a reserve of last year, however, may be the looked-for spark that the team needs to have a banner season. Dave was an All-American in high school and is still a mighty hard man to stop on the court. He plays forward or guard equally well and with a little more seasoning willing.

make the 'Cat fans forget the passing of such immortals as Sale, Combs, the McGinnis boys and Carey Spicer.

Did you know—that Ralph Kercheval, the 'Cats' all-around handy man, has only received the kickoff in one game in his collegiate career, although he has played the deep back position for three years—That end coach, Len Miller has a passion for Delta Zetas—loaned them his car last week while he was gone to Durham on a scouting trip—That the Kentucky football team was the first southern team to play Cincinnati since the Tennessee Vols defeated the Bearcats in 1924—That the Big Blue bought all the Nudist Magazines obtainable in Cincinnati and Frosh line coach Bull Brown expects to get rich on the stock market with the information received from the financial books he purchased last Saturday in Cincinnati. He wanted to get informed immediately and griped because the lights were turned off in the bus coming back to Lexington, and he could not read.

We understand that frosh track coach "Peter" Potter is cutting quite a caper in the current Guignol production, "When Ladies Meet." Potter's ability as an actor is said to be even greater than his athletic ability.

Pershing Rifles Holds First Drill

Company "C" Pershing Rifles, held its first meeting last Monday at 5 p. m. in the Armory. Cadets who had been selected as outstanding material for pledges were present and were assigned to platoons. C. W. Kaufman, captain, commanding officer, and J. H. Mills, last year's commanding officer, made short talks in which they welcomed the pledges.

The company's first drill was held Wednesday from 5 to 6 p. m. in the Armory. Following the practice, Major Brewer made a welcoming address to the new cadets in which he outlined the purposes and the past record of the company.

The next drill will be held at 5 p. m. Friday.

STUDENT HAS OPERATION

Joseph Longstreet, sophomore in the College of Commerce was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital last Thursday, October 12, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. His friends report that he is progressing very favorably. He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Schick Addresses U. K. French Club

Prof. B. W. Schick, instructor of Romance languages, spoke at the first meeting of the French club, at the Women's building Wednesday at 3 p. m.

Professor Schick's address was given in French. He spoke on the French university and compared it with our universities. Professor Schick recently was in France, and he gave descriptions of different phases of French life.

The officers for this year are: President, Sarah Purnell; Vice-president, Dorothy Clifton; and Secretary, Betsy Frye. An interesting program is in the making for the next meeting of the French club which will be held at 3 p. m. November 1 in the Women's building.

Roamin' the Rialto

By BEN BLACK

"Ladies Must Love," a rather amusing comedy drama, which combines love and excitement in just the right proportions, is being shown on the screen of the Kentucky through Saturday. This picture co-stars June Knight, of musical comedy fame, with Neil Hamilton. The "warm ditties" of Miss Knight are really the high spots of the whole show.

Briefly four Park Avenue gold diggers sign an agreement to split the sucker money. Business is pretty good until Miss Knight spools everything by really falling for Neil Hamilton. Then to complicate matters still further, the merger contract turns up, and it looks for a while as if June has lost Neil—but you know how life and picture shows can turn out.

The current attraction at the Ben Ali is "The Life of Jimmie Dolan," featuring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. There is plenty of action and a lively love story in this picture, even if Doug doesn't look like a prizefighter.

The story deals with a prizefighter who accidentally kills a man while drunk. He is forced to leave his profession and wander around the country under an assumed name. Finally he comes upon a farming family where he finds romance and a way out of his difficulties.

cutties. Of course the story is climaxed by a grand fight.

A very competent cast combines with Fairbanks in unfolding this story. Loretta Young plays opposite the star. Other important roles are played by Aline MacMahon, Lyle Talbot, Phil Dorsey, Guy Kibbee, Harold Huber and Shirley Grey.

The picture is directed by Archie Mayo.

Today and tomorrow the Strand is offering a presentation of Charles Dickens immortal story, "Oliver Twist." This picture contains an unusually strong cast which captures the pathos of this universally known story, but somehow or other slightly misses the Dickens flavor.

Political Science Honorary Conveners

Phi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science organization, held its first meeting of the year at 3 p. m. Wednesday in room 203, Administration building. The meeting was opened by Clyde Reeves, vice-president for last year, in the absence of Robert Stewart, retiring president. The election of officers was held with the following results: Evelyn Grubbs, president; Perry Bryant, vice-president; and Clyde Reeves, secretary-treasurer. J. W. Manning is faculty advisor.

No definite plans have been made for the coming year other than the announcement of requirements for eligibility, which are a major or minor in political science, with 12 credit hours, and a grade of "B" or better. Invitations will be sent as soon as a list of eligible students is announced.

COURT PRACTICE WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Couch Adolph Rupp has issued his annual call for material for his forthcoming 1934 Wildcat basketball team. There is enough equipment to take care of all who desire to come out for the team and all who wish to try for a position on the team are urged to report at the Alumni gymnasium, Monday, October 23, at 3 o'clock.

Every man in the University, who can play basketball, is asked to come out for the team. There are several open positions this year, and men must be found to fill them. Due to graduation of several regulars, it is necessary to have the positions left open by them occupied by seasoned men.

The schedule has not been released as yet, but all indications show that it will be about the same as that of last year. Since the 'Cats won the Southeastern conference championship last year, many of the best teams in the country who have not been on the schedule prior to this time have petitioned for games with the Big Blue.

Last year there were 11 men who received varsity letters in basketball. The lettermen who are back are: Captain John "Frenchy" DeMoisey, Evan Settle, Jack Tucker, Dave Lawrence, Bill Davis, and Howard "Dutch" Kreuter.

There are several of last year's freshman team who will report and among them are: Garland Lewis, Glenn Mester, "Slip" Jerome, Milner Anderson, Sam Potter, Joe Huddleston, Elwood Arnall, and Ralph Edwards.

Cross Country Race Will Be Run Oct. 27

All Entrants Must Take Physical Exam by October 24th, at 3 p. m.

With tennis, golf, and horse shoes contests rapidly drawing to an end, and volleyball, well under way, the Intramural department is preparing for the much looked-for cross country race. The time for the race has been set and changed many times, but this will be the permanent one. The cross country race will be run Friday, October 27. The announcement came out several times, stating that the course was to be covered nine times before the team would be eligible to compete. Changes have been made, and the number of times an entrant has to run has been reduced to five. The distance of the course has been reduced to one mile instead of one and three-eighths miles. The course now runs from the west gate of Stoll field, along Boneyard creek to South Limestone street, around the Agriculture building, and back to South Limestone street again. The gully has been omitted from the course this year.

All entries must have a physical examination before Tuesday, October 24, at 3 o'clock.

Y. W. Will Bring Speaker To U. K.

William Paton Will Visit Campus Latter Part of Month

Mr. William "Bill" Paton, one of three secretaries of the International Missionary council, will be at the University October 28, 29, and 30, under the sponsorship of the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. Mr. Paton is from London, England, and is making a tour of the United States in the interest of the Missionary council.

Meetings being arranged by the Y. groups include a dinner meeting tomorrow, at which there will be present representatives from Transylvania college, Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. Mr. Paton will make an address which will be followed by a forum. Y. W. and Y. M. members from 10 central and eastern Kentucky colleges have been invited to attend this meeting. Monday the cabinets will meet with Mr. Paton at luncheon. The discussion will be a follow-up of the Sunday discussion.

The subject of Mr. Paton's talks will be "Changes in Student Thinking." Meetings are being planned which will include all students.

Dean Blanding Is Hostess To Council

New Members of W.A.A. Will Be Entertained By Group In Women's Gym

Members of the Women's Athletic association council will be guests of Dean Blanding Tuesday, October 24, for a picnic at her home on the Richmond pike. Transportation will be furnished for members meeting at Patterson hall at 3 p. m.

Tonight from 7 to 8 p. m., the new members of W.A.A. will be entertained in the Women's gym. The managers of the sports are in charge of the program and will present a series of skits, giving a "Sport's-Eye-View" of the association. At the conclusion of the program refreshments will be served. The Archery tournament starts Monday at 3 p. m., Margaret Warren, manager is in charge. There will be no archery, Tuesday, October 24.

The W.A.A. Intramural Hard Times dance will be held Saturday, November 4. Tickets will be on sale next week at 50 cents per couple.

dry, and machine shop divisions over which he had supervision in the Engineering college.

Mr. Dicker became a naturalized citizen after the establishment of his residence in Lexington. He took active interests in all civic, state, and national affairs. He was a member of the Church of Good Shepherd, and was senior warden at the time of his death.

He was an honorary member of Triangle fraternity, Dicker Engineering society; a 32nd degree Mason, a Shriner, and a member of the Lexington Lion's club.

Prof. F. Paul Anderson, dean of the College of Engineering, announced yesterday that all classes of the college would be closed during the hour of the funeral, in order that both students and faculty might attend.

A faculty reception which had been scheduled for last night was postponed when the death of Mr. Dicker became known.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m., today, at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Bishop H. P. Almon Abbott officiating. Burial will be in the Lexington cemetery. Active pall bearers will be Dean F. Paul Anderson, James Berry, Clifford Bitterman, Dr. Clarence Dewese, Prof. W. E. Freeman, Prof. L. E. Nollan, Gordon Thurman, and Dr. George Wilson.

Honorary pall bearers are: Thomas M. Arkie, F. M. Beckley, W. H. Brend, J. H. Faunce, Clarence Flynn, Ben Harrison, J. R. Kettenacker, J. G. McBee, A. E. Oram, J. Y. Peck, A. L. Pigman, J. H. Rice, and S. T. Saunier.

D. N. Singer, B. W. Spicer, Newton Sturgeon, T. C. Tucker, John S. Yellman, G. C. Boden, Charles Fithian, Frank Jones, E. C. Fain, J. J. Morris, William Warren, W. E. Lang, H. E. Coleman, D. N. Zimmerman, and F. E. Tuttle.

Mr. Dicker is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Snell Dicker; one son, John, both of Lexington; one brother, George D. Dicker, Chagford, Devonshire, England; and one sister, Mrs. P. Poulson, London, England.

Commerce Group Chooses Officers

Members of secretarial division of the Commerce senior class employment association, at their meeting Monday night elected the following officers: Gayle Elliott, assistant business manager; Helen Wunsch, Anne K. Smith and Philip McGee, advertising committee.

Plans were devised at the meeting with respect to promoting the effect of advertising for the secretarial division. It was decided to have a group picture of the members made October 19. The photographs will accompany all advertising matter of the association.

Engineers Convene In Memorial Hall

Dean Anderson was careful to point out that the exercises in the shop were there to cultivate accuracy and self-reliance, and that there the theories that are learned in class are put into practice. This completes the balance scales, because the student has learned to think and has learned to use his hands in accomplishing the tasks allotted. This completes education. He also said that the desire of the faculty was for every one to enjoy himself to the fullest extent from the numerous benefits and to train himself to accomplish things.

He then introduced Milford Noel, graduate of the class of '30 of the engineering school, who related various incidents of his numerous airplane flights in connection with the Department of Commerce, from Los Angeles to Louisville, and from Phoenix, Arizona, to San Francisco. At the conclusion of the assembly, J. B. Croft was appointed as song leader to serve for the coming year.

Wildcats Leave For W. & L. Grid Tilt

tuckians against the 'Cats when they tie up Saturday.

The 'Cats came out of the Cincy game in fine shape with the exception of O. B. Murphy, 170-pound regular tackle, who received a fractured jaw bone and will probably be lost from the team for the rest of the season. The entire Wildcat squad has been exceptionally lucky this season in avoiding the injury jinx that has stalked them in recent years. With the exception of Murphy, the squad has not lost a man for any great length of time because of an injury.

The Wildcats will arrive in Roanoke today at 10 a. m. and will go to the Municipal stadium where they will hold their final workout.

The following members of the squad made the trip: McMillan, Kercheval, Bach, Walker, Cassidy, McClurg, Shanklin, Jean, Ayres, McCool, and Pritchard, backs; Rupert, Kreuter, Parrish, Long, Frye, and Jackson, ends; Jobe, Darnaby, Fish, Oiah, Kelly, Davidson, Aldridge, Tichenor, Jacobs, Dickey, Wagner, and James, linemen.

The probable starting lineup is as follows:

Kentucky	Pos	W. and L.
Rupert	LT	Hanley
Jobe	LT	Carmen
Davidson	LG	Boland
Jones	C	Glynn
Aldridge	RT	Grove
Fish	RE	Smith
Kreuter	RB	Arnold

Glee Club Will Sing At Football Games

Men's Group Will Sponsor
Comic Skits at Home
Engagements

Tentative plans for singing by the men's glee club at future football games, and the sponsoring of short skits at these games by the group, were announced yesterday by Prof. Carl Lampert, head of the music department, and director of the glee club.

"The glee club is larger this year than ever before in the history of the University," Professor Lampert said, "and extensive plans are being made for a full program of activity this year."

Present plans include singing between halves of the Duke-Kentucky game of the Duke pep-song and Alma Mater, and the Kentucky Alma Mater. A short stunt will also be presented, carrying out the idea of a Wildcat charging a blue-devil from ambush.

The organization is also scheduled to sing at a banquet at the Lafayette hotel, October 27, during the tenth annual Kentucky Educational conference.
